NOTE FOR:

You asked for a short list of my interests to guide your presentation of Systems Programming work. I do not have a good feel yet for the division between your purview and that of so some of my concerns may overlap. Also, I am sure that in many instances I don't know enough to ask the right questions. With those caveats, my concerns are:

- What are the significant developments, you have underway or proposed, e.g. AIMS?
- What are your plans with respect to data security enhancement?
- What are your programming and documentation standards?
- What documentation do you now have on the system that I could borrow?
- What documentation do you now have on databases, their interrelationships, and their cognizant authorities for access, update, architecture, and integrity?
- What are your plans to improve system availability and MTBF for real time users?

I'll see you Friday.
